Knight Oil Tools Once Again Posts Industry-Leading Safety Record

At Knight Oil Tools where “People Make the Difference,” there is no task as important as the safety of employees. Safety is not just a slogan in our company. Our commitment to providing a safe workplace is proven year after year by our industry-leading safety record.

In 2014, the company had a Total Recordable Incident Rating (TRIR) of 0.94, beating the industry rate of 1.9. Our 5-year average TRIR is 0.8, less than half the industry rate.

“Our focus on defining and incorporating safety responsibility and accountability to our employees consistently results in a safety record of which we all can be proud,” stated Mike Pothier, Chief Safety & Compliance Officer.

For more than 40 years, Knight Oil Tools has been providing “zero-failure” equipment and services to the oil and gas industry.
